Management Discusses Shareholder Confidence and Growth Strategy.

Boise, Idaho, July 30, 2015 -- PCS Edventures!.com, Inc. (PCSV), a leading provider of K-12 Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) programs today elaborated on the details behind the removal of $159,901 in long term debt from the Balance Sheet as reported in an 8K filed July 23, 2015. Co-CEO Todd Hackett and three other shareholders executed convertible notes with a strike price of $0.15 share. "The conversion of this debt is a strong vote of confidence in the Company's future, said Mr. Hackett, as these are Rule 144 shares that must be held at least six months. This Company is turning around, and we are all excited to be part of the long term company vision."

In addition to the strengthened balance sheet, the Company is looking forward to its earnings announcement in a few weeks when the 10Q for FY2016 1st quarter will be released. Robert Grover, Co-CEO with Mr. Hackett said, "We are excited about the progress and growth in the Company, and are counting down to our annual shareholder's meeting set for September 25th. During that meeting we will be reviewing the successes to date, discussing the strategy behind our uplisting to the OTCQB, which is planned for August, and elaborating in more detail on our growth strategy for the Company."

The Company strategy aligns with the intersection of three rapid growth market segments - mobile learning, robotics, and STEM education. PCS has deep expertise and technology in STEM and robotics, including hardware, software, and a content library of over one hundred K12 STEM titles, ranging from introductory robotics and nanotechnology to drones and aerospace engineering.
